

Name _____

As of this evening:

1. What's your greatest success so far as a writer? (doesn't have to do with publishing, but it can)?
2. As a writer, what part of the writing process do you find easiest?
3. As a writer, what part of the process gives you the most trouble?
4. What would you like to know more about writing that will make your work as a writer easier?
5. Tell us about one of the writing projects you're currently working on.
 - a. What's the protagonist need, and why can't they get it?
 - b. How many drafts are you into this project?
 - c. What's the most important work that needs to be done on this project before you do any other work?

- d. How will you find readers for this work?

In the future, one to three years from now:

1. What is/are your genre or genres?
2. In order for you personally to feel fully successful as a writer, what must you obtain?
3. What project do you intend to complete in the next three years that will make you feel completely and/or partly successful as a writer?
4. What are your plans for getting the above writing project in the hands of readers?
5. All the research I've done says your social media status may help you, but won't hurt you, while you seek publication. However, everyone in writing and publishing believes you need a website, the sooner the better. What will you place on yours to get readers to flock to you?
